

HardisonInk.com

Harry Connick Jr. Sends A Note To Trenton Performers

The Trenton Elementary School drama group is performing Harry Connick Jr.'s "The Happy Elf" tonight (Saturday, Dec. 3) at 7 p.m. at Trenton Elementary School in the cafetorium. On Thursday (Dec. 1), Play Director Rebekah Manbeck and Gilchrist County Drama Program Head Krista Perryman received an envelope. Upon opening it, they were overjoyed to find a handwritten note from Harry Connick Jr. himself wishing the performers luck on the show. 'We were beyond words! We are a tiny school district that has grown this program leaps and bounds.' Perryman noted that to receive this recognition from a musical genius such as this artist was an honor.

Here is the text of the handwritten note:

Dear Trenton Drama Teachers -

Hi! Thanks so much for doing "The Happy Elf" - I wish I could be there for a performance... I know y'all will kill it! Break a leg!

Love,
Harry

~

Published Dec. 3, 2016 at 9:17 a.m. on the Home Page of HardisonInk.com
Information and Photos Provided by Krista Perryman