

HardisonInk.com

The Plane

Fantasy Island (the television series) included at the beginning Tattoo (played by Hervé Villechaize).

Although the opening changed over the years, the first set of shows included Tattoo running up the main bell tower to ring the bell and shout "Ze plane! Ze plane!" to announce the arrival of a new set of guests at the beginning of each episode. A Grumman Widgeon aircraft was used for the series. Here, the plane seen is a biplane that was passing over Chiefland Farmer's Flea Market a week ago, Saturday morning (Oct. 13). This biplane had "United States Army" on the bottom of its wings. Before the Air Force, it was the United States Army Air Corps.

As indicated by the signs, there is a Haunted House at the Chiefland Farmer's Flea Market.

The Portable Buildings

Here are a couple of the many Portable Buildings (Weather King) that can be seen at the Chiefland Farmer's Flea Market.

Photos by Jeff M. Hardison © Oct. 17, 2018 at 2:08 p.m.