

HardisonInk.com

---

Hay Art

This is a scene created by a person using hay as the dominant art piece. It depicts a cow, complete with horns and an ear tag, as well as a pink ribbon and big eyelashes. Hay art is found at various places throughout the Tri-County Area of Levy, Dixie and Gilchrist counties.

Photo by Jeff M. Hardison © Oct. 25, 2018 at 7:08 a.m.

HardisonInk.com

---

Hay Art

Holly Holifield Keene, a teacher at Cedar Key School, is the artist who created this hay art, which depicts a cow, complete with horns and an ear tag, and the calf looking over at the cow. Notice the calf has little horns, a smile and a bowtie. Hay art is found at various places throughout the Tri-County Area of Levy, Dixie and Gilchrist counties. An earlier version of the cow can be seen by scrolling down.
Photo by Sharon Hardison © Oct. 28, 2018 at 4:08 p.m.

HardisonInk.com

---

Hay Art

This is a scene created by a person using hay as the dominant art piece. It depicts a small camper trailer and a campsite. Hay art is found at various places throughout the Tri-County Area of Levy, Dixie and Gilchrist counties.

Photo by Jeff M. Hardison © Oct. 9, 2018 at 2:18 p.m.