

HardisonInk.com

Back Door Antiques has it all

Store owner Jim Smith stands among some of the many objects ready to be bought and taken home, or to the office, or given as gifts.

Story and Photos

By Jeff M. Hardison © Feb. 14, 2019 at 4:09 p.m.

WILLISTON -- First opened in April, Back Door Antiques continues thriving in Williston.

This is a view from the parking lot. Jim Smith said some customers have walked all of the way around the building to enter through the front door. However, this is the shorter route from the parking lot.

HardisonInk.com

Proprietor Jim Smith remembers when the building at 36 E. Noble Ave. (U.S. Alt. 27) was the Ross Hardware Store 65 years ago.

Today, it is Back Door Antiques, Williston's newest antique store, with furniture, books, collectibles and more. The back door is one of the two entrances to the store. And that is where most shoppers park – behind the building.

Smith said he has seen some customers cross Noble Avenue from Pizza Hut to come and shop at the store, but he highly recommends against crossing the highway. Park in back, and then come on in to the Back Door Antiques.

The woman in bronze is selling for $2,400. This is at the higher end of objects available for purchase at the store.

The range of prices for the multitude of objects able to be purchased in this huge store generally ranges from $1 to $2,400.

The list of what is there is extensive. The best method to see the items is to visit the store between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday through Saturdays.

There is so much to consider, this is a place just to walk through on a self-guided tour.

Among the unique items is a wooden telephone booth, complete with phone. There are even sets of relatively glamorous women's clothing. Everyone is invited to browse, and to buy.

HardisonInk.com

---

This wooden telephone booth is just the place for Clark Kent to change if he happens to visit.

Look! there are even binoculars or opera glasses in this picture. The photos here capture just a glimpse of what is at Back Door Antiques.

HardisonInk.com

---

These are the TY Toys selling for $3 on Tuesday morning (Feb. 12). It is important to remember that things can be sold. See it. Like it. Buy it.

Some of the women's clothing on display at the store are seen here.

HardisonInk.com

---

Here are some tea cups and other items.

Is it live or is it Memorex? Before tapes, there were vinyl records.

HardisonInk.com

---

From 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Saturdays
- Back Door Antiques is open.